

LODDON FISHERIES AND CONSERVATION CONSULTATIVE

VISIT TO CALVERTON FISH FARM THE ENVIRONMENT AGENCY'S COARSE FISH REARING UNIT FRIDAY JUNE 7th

This visit being lead by the Loddon Fisheries & Conservation Consultative is a rare opportunity to visit the EA's National Fish Rearing Unit at Calverton north of Nottingham. It is hoped to see eggs and fry of a number of coarse fish species, with a guided tour around the facilities. It will give an insight in the operation and challenges of running the unit, whilst we should go away with a greater understanding of the requirements of many of the species that are a valuable and often hidden part of our aquatic fauna. The staff at Calverton have a huge amount of experience gained over a period of over 30 years, much of it built around enthusiasm to protect and enhance our fish populations.

Visit starts 14.00, places are limited.
